APPLY HERE

Equity Leaders Institutes provide opportunities for education practitioners to engage in two full days of intensive collegial study, discussion, and custom planning related to leadership practices for the advancement of educational equity in local settings.

This year, we will engage you in shared learning experiences related to analyzing policies, practices, structures, and interactions within seven specific domains for systemic transformative change towards equity. At this Institute, you will have the unique opportunity to network with others in similar roles and responsibilities across our 13-state region of coverage.

Following this two-day intensive learning event, you will be able to: (1) provide a strong rationale for equity-oriented data examination of learning systems; (2) articulate multiple sources and methods for collecting and analyzing data towards transformative change for equity; (3) identify essential domains/areas to be considered in critical collaborative inquiry to advance educational equity; (4) implement necessary actions to assess your own context.

APPLICATION GUIDELINES

Because the Institute is designed for intermediate to expert practitioners, there is an application and acceptance process. Space is limited to 50 participants and it is important to us to have representation from across our 13-state region. Therefore, we encourage you to apply early to assist us in ensuring fair and equitable representation across the Midwest and Plains states. Application deadline is July 20, 2018.
