Midwest and Plains Equity Assistance Center Calendar of Events

Introduction to the Midwest and Plains (MAP) Equity Assistance Center

At the Midwest and Plains \(MAP\) Equity Assistance Center, a project of the Great Lakes Equity Center at Indiana University, we are committed to school and system transformation toward racial, disability, and other forms of educational justice. The MAP Center provides three tiers of technical assistance related to race, sex, national origin, and religion desegregation to K-12 public education agencies in a 13-state region free of charge.

A Note about Accessibility

All Center publications on our website are screen reader-friendly and alt text is used whenever possible in all our materials. At our live events, we can provide ASL or CART, foreign language interpretation and audio amplification upon request. All virtual event recordings are accompanied by downloadable transcriptions. For on-site events, we ensure that event locations are wheelchair accessible. For additional accommodation requests or accessibility questions for events, please contact the Center at (317) 278-3493 or email at glec@iupui.edu.

Professional Learning Events for All Education Stakeholders

Tier I virtual events are available in two formats: EquiLearn Virtual Roundtables, which are research-based discussion forums around a facilitating Equity Fellows' area of expertise; and Virtual Coffeehouses, which provide a space for discussions around online/hybrid learning policy and practice, and its impact upon the students we serve, with parents, caregivers, district leaders, and teachers as conversation starters and participants.

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtables

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtables are live, online, synchronous learning experiences aimed at providing an opportunity for participants to talk with and ask questions of a Subject Matter Expert, as well as engage in discussions and activities, which are uniquely different than more didactic-focused webinars.

March 11, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable: Oceti Sakowin Essential Understandings--Lakota Language and Culture in an Elementary Classroom

Featuring Dr. Tamera Miyasato & Matthew Rama, facilitated by Dr. Jami Stone

South Dakota adopted the Oceti Sakowin Essential for Understandings (OSEU) in 2018. This adoption by the state demonstrated the importance of South Dakota citizens to understand the history and the cultural makeup of Indigenous people. How do we use these understandings to center Indigenous culture? How do we foster students' mathematical identity through the OSEU? In this EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable, we explore how the OSEU can be integrated into any classroom as a starting point to honor student voices, experiences, and identities by centering Indigenous culture in the learning environment.

Equity Connect! Monthly Series of EquiLearn Virtual Roundtables

Within this virtual roundtable-style convening, partners will introduce their rationale for partnering with the MAP Center, outline goals of the partnership, highlight one key MAP Center resource they have utilized in their equity work, and present key approaches to optimize transformative change towards equity.

TBA, 2021

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable: Equity Connect! Leveraging the Equity Context Analysis Process \(ECAP\)

During this Equity Connect! session, our guest district—Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy (IMSA)—will discuss how they leveraged their partnership with the MAP Center, including a resource highlight that strengthened their work, and strategic approaches they took, to center non-dominant school community stakeholders in an equity-oriented needs assessment process (ECAP) in order to inform systemic-level decision-making.

April 8, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable: Antiracism, Universal Design for Learning, and the Woope Sakowin (Seven Laws)

Featuring Dr. Jami Stone with Dr. Tamera Miyasoto

The Woope Sakowin (Seven Laws) are universal virtues of the Lakota people that are a foundation of Lakota culture. They align with the asset-based, antiracist goals of Universal Design for Learning (UDL): to develop expert learners who are 1) purposeful and motivated, 2) resourceful and knowledgeable, and 3) strategic and goal-directed. This EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable will highlight how the Woope Sakowin and UDL can be used to honor and engage every learner in a safe, adaptable, and creative learning environment.

April 27, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable: Connecting Across Differences--Tools and Approaches for Important Conversations

We are in the midst of a context and period of time unlike any other in our lifetimes. We're living with a global pandemic that challenges every aspect of our lives; the population is profoundly polarized, inequality has deepened, and our country is unstable in many ways. How do we engage in constructive conversations that take on tough equity issues among people who are different from one another in identities and perspectives? This EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable, facilitated by Equity Fellow Dr. Sharon Radd, will describe pitfalls and promising practices for connecting across differences. Next, tools for having difficult and inclusive conversations will be shared, and there will be an opportunity to practice with those tools. Finally, we will debrief and discuss how you can use these tools and processes to create inclusion and cohesion as you seek to increase equity in your school and community.

May 19, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

LGBTQ Youth of Color in Schools and Communities

This EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable, facilitated by Joselyn Parker and Equity Fellow Dr. Mollie Blackburn, will be a place to discuss problems LGBTQ students of Color experience being marked as Black or Brown in a white supremacist society—and being marked as queer in a hetero/cisnormative society. Together, we will talk about what queerness, homophobia, and transphobia look like among youth of Color, and reflect upon consequences. We will offer recommendations for what teachers, administrators, and community stakeholders can do to disrupt homophobia and transphobia in their school communities.

June 16, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable: Disrupting Whiteness--A Workshop Addressing Positionality

The term “Whiteness” refers to race privilege, a way of seeing the world, and “a set of cultural practices that are usually unmarked and unnamed” (Frankenberg, in DiAngelo, 2011, p. 56). Whiteness is pervasive in American society, and is a barrier to inclusion and equity.

Faith without Works is Dead: Exploring the Role of Faith in Equity and Justice-Centered Work

This EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable, facilitated by Dr. Crystal Morton, will bring together women from different faith traditions to have a critical conversation about the role of faith in their equity and justice-centered work.

August 19, 2021, 1:00 PM-2:00 PM ET [12:00 PM-1:00 PM CT; 11:00 AM-12:00 PM MT]

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable: Equity Connect! Centering Equity in School Boards & District Leadership

During this Equity Connect! session, our guest district, Ferndale Public Schools (FPS), will discuss how they leveraged their partnership with the MAP Center, highlight tools and resources that strengthened their work, and approaches they took, in partnership with the MAP Center, to build the capacity of their district leadership and school board, and to develop an equity-focused strategic plan.

September 14, 2021, 1:00 PM-2:00 PM ET [12:00 PM-1:00 PM CT; 11:00 AM-12:00 PM MT]

EquiLearn Virtual Roundtable: Equity Connect! Ensuring My State Agency is a Critically Conscious Learning Organization

During this Equity Connect! session, our guest state education agency, Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (WDPI), will discuss how they leveraged their partnership with the MAP Center, highlight tools and resources that strengthened their work, and approaches they took, in partnership with the MAP Center, to build staff and leadership capacity through the development and/or cultivation of their critical consciousness.

(Re)claim, (Re)vitalize, (Re)imagine & (Re)commit Virtual Coffeehouses

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Virtual Coffeehouse Series (VCH) provides a less-formal space for parents/caregivers, educators, and district leaders to engage in an equity-centered exploration of the impact of the virus on students' experiences. The shift to virtual/hybrid education, in addition to safety and health protocols, has created unique challenges for parents/caregivers as they become more directly responsible for facilitating their children's education. This year's series seeks to explore the virtual and hybrid experiences of education during COVID with parents, caregivers, district leaders, and teachers as conversation starters and participants.

April 22, 2021; 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

(Re)claim, (Re)vitalize, (Re)imagine & (Re)commit Virtual Coffeehouse: Virtual Learning-From Policy to Practice

During this virtual session, we will explore the ways in which virtual learning during the pandemic has impacted, or could impact, policies and procedures in K-12 schools. We will explore the impact of those policies on students and parents.

August 3, 2021; 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

(Re)claim, (Re)vitalize, (Re)imagine & (Re)commit Virtual Coffeehouse: Supporting Students with Making Healthy Connections

This virtual session will create a conversation space for parents and educators to discuss their students' social development during the pandemic and ways to help their students build strong relationships in the absence of in-person schooling and onsite interaction.

Professional Learning Events for Specific Education Stakeholders

Professional learning events for specific education stakeholders bring together role-alike stakeholders across district and state boundaries, support peer-to-peer mentoring, and offer opportunities to share information quickly across individuals focused on similar problems of practice.

Families Learning from Families Virtual Roundtables

Families Learning from Families Virtual Roundtables are dynamic, online learning experiences aimed at providing an opportunity for parents/ caregivers with different backgrounds (i.e. families of Color, families with varied religious backgrounds, families with children with disabilities, families from disinvested communities, non-traditional families) to talk with and ask questions of an expert in family and community supports, and in home and school partnership. In this series, parents/ caregivers will engage in discussion with each other and a featured expert, who is also a parent/caregiver, with the aim of sharing ideas and resources related to supporting students and families during the Covid-19 pandemic.

April 10, 2021, 12 noon-1 PM ET [11 AM-12 noon CT; 10 AM-11 AM MT]

Families Learning from Families Virtual Roundtable: Session 1

The Pandemic a Year Later-- Where We Were and Where We're Going

During Session 1, we bring together three parents/ caregivers that have juggled personal, professional, and academic roles throughout the global pandemic. Discussion will be centered around how lives have shifted and changed throughout the past year to discuss the COVID-19 Pandemic a Year Later: What we know now, where we are, and where we're going.

April 24, 2021, 12 noon-1 PM ET [11 AM-12 noon CT; 10 AM-11 AM MT]

Families Learning from Families Virtual Roundtable: Session 2

The Pandemic a Year Later--Addressing the Social Emotional of Students and Families

During Session 2, we bring together parents/ caregivers to discuss supporting the social emotional needs of students and families during the pandemic and beyond. This session will be dedicated to idea

World Café: Building a Coalition to (Re)claim, (Re)vitalize, (Re)imagine, (Re)commit to An Intersectional Anti-Racist Agenda for Realizing Education Justice for All

This live virtual learning and networking experience will bring together nationally renowned scholars, practitioners, and education justice activists to discuss opportunities for expanding networks and creating alliances with the specific purpose of advancing an intersectional anti-racist agenda within and across organizations toward realizing education justice for all. This event is invitation only.

August 9, 2021, 1:00-2:00 PM ET [12:00-1:00 PM MT; 11:00 AM-12:00 PM]

September 23-24, 2021

Equity Leaders Institute

Equity Leaders Institutes are transformative two-day learning experiences intended to increase participants' capacities to advance and sustain equitable practices in teaching and learning. We limit Institute participants to 60 in order to ensure personalized technical assistance support from Center staff. Participants engage in shared learning experiences related to effective practices for leading equity-focused district/school improvement initiatives, network with others in similar roles and responsibilities, and initiate planning towards efforts for increasing their capacities to effectively lead equity-focused school/district improvement initiatives.

Learning Network Cohort

The Learning Network Cohort is an intentional learning community that provides shared learning and networking opportunities for members related to a common topic of interest or shared goals. The Center offers opportunities for cohort members to participate in shared online professional learning and networking experiences that include online professional learning events, resources, and technical assistance. A password is required to register for all Learning

Network Cohort events. Please contact us for information on becoming a Learning Network Cohort member.

February 16, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

Learning Network Cohort: Virtual Roundtable

During this event, Learning Network Cohort members will engage in discussion with a subject matter expert.

April 20, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

Learning Network Cohort: Equity Tool Showcase

During this event, Learning Network Cohort members will be introduced to an equity tool connected to their learning.

August 5, 2021, 3:30-4:30 PM ET [2:30-3:30 PM CT; 1:30-2:30 PM MT]

Learning Network Cohort: Webinar During this event, Learning Network Cohort members will view a webinar developed to address learning under the theme of culturally responsive/asset-based and sustaining practices and safe and inclusive schooling environments.

Tier III Partner Events

Tier III Systemic Equity Partnerships is the MAP Center's most intensive tier of technical assistance service provision. At the Tier III level, partners engage with MAP Center leadership in the co-creation of shared goals and objectives for their organization's systemic transformation toward educational equity, which are outlined in a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) and Technical Assistance Scope and Sequence (TASS) document. Service provision can take many forms in its approach and learning modalities; and the MAP Center consistently provides a customized technical assistance team that assists in providing timely, robust, and high-quality assistance as partners lead to realize their own equity-oriented goals.

Partnership Academies

Partnership Academies are unique professional learning sessions designed exclusively for Tier III partners that focus on a particular topic pertaining to educational equity and are in alignment with partnership MOU goals and objectives. In the Leading Equity-Focused Initiatives Partnership Academy, Tier III partners learn about building capacity around leading equity-focused systemic initiatives. In the Equity-Oriented Strategic Planning Partnership Academy, Tier III partners engage in facilitated strategic planning sessions, specifically focused on defining and/or advancing their organization's systemic equity goals. In the Equity-Oriented Educators Partnership Academy, Tier III partners engage in activities that will deepen understanding of essential equity constructs to increase capacity to dislodge oppressive deficit ideologies, policies, and practices, and promote asset-based and emancipatory educational practices. Sessions are held virtually due to the COVID-19 global pandemic. A password is required to register for all Partnership Academies.

Asynchronous Learning Opportunities

Podcasts/Vodcasts

The EquiLearn Anti-Racism Vodcast and Podcast Series provide an opportunity to understand and examine how educational stakeholders within the MAP Center's 13-state region define and frame intersectional, anti-racist educational practice; how their own identities shape their understandings of anti-racist leadership; as well as provide key and unapologetic insights on what is required, beyond platitudes and toward concrete policies and practices, to realize racially just school communities. Episode publication dates are the last day of each month.

Center Vodcasts

A vodcast is an episodic series of digital video files (10-20 minutes) which regional partners can watch to focused on equity-related issues or themes. Transcripts available.

Center Podcasts

A Podcast is an episodic series of digital audio files (10-20 minutes) which regional partners can listen to focused on equity-related issues or themes.
